

City Council approves $8,147,915 budget

By Lynne Locke

The Upland City Council Monday night approved an $8,147,915 which may include a 2.72 cent tax increase for the 1975-1976 fiscal year. The budget provides a five per cent salary increase for most employees.

City Manager Lee Travers said the possibility of avoiding a tax increase "looks hopeful." The city tax rate will be set in August when the city learns how much revenue can be expected from property taxes. A 5.3 per cent increase in assessed valuation has been estimated, Travers said.

Councilman Hal Bailin criticized the council's method of adopting the budget without public page-by-page examination and discussion.

"I do not agree with the action of council in my absence in passing quickly the tentative budget. It is not a budget of the City Council. It should be public and hearings should be public," he said.

Mayor pro tem John McCarthy commented the budget had been carefully studied by each council member and "members had met separately with Travers on all areas of concern."

"There is no reason to hash out item after item in public and accomplish nothing" except wasting time, McCarthy added.

In spite of his criticism of the council's method, Bailin said, "I'm satisfied the budget was carefully prepared" and moved for adoption of the budget.

The $8-billion budget includes appropriations for the Mountain Avenue improvement project and construction of two reservoirs.

The budget, which Mayor Abner Haldeman termed "austere," also includes $27,070 of allocations to nine community organizations and $23,900 for lighting and upgrading recreational fields used by local youth athletic leagues.

In an attempt to avoid the projected 2.7 cent tax increase, the council refused to increase funding for community groups. Only the Upland Chamber of Commerce requested a smaller allocation than last year.

Allocations to community groups include Chaffey Communities Cultural center, $1,000; Chamber of Commerce, $18,000; Reach Out West End, $600; Suicide and Crisis Intervention Service, $650; and Town Affiliation Association $400.

Others are Wayne Fanning Alcohol Education Program Inc., $720; West End Boys' Clubs Inc., $4,000; West End Opera Association, $850; and West End Symphony Association, $850.

On a tie vote the council denied a $750 allocation to Toward Utility Rate Normalization (TURN), a consumer advocate organization which received $750 this year. Haldeman and McCarthy voted against funding with Councilwoman Ina Petokas absent. The council will reconsider the vote when the full council is present.

Athletic allocations include $15,000 for lights at the Memorial Park baseball diamond, $2,000 for lighting the Memorial park slow-pitch baseball field, $1,500 for lighting the Pioneer Junior High School field, and $5,400 for renovation of San Antonio Park's Flowers Field.

Other financial actions by the council include:

—Approval for an estimated $80,000 sewer extension north of Eighth Street on Benson Avenue. Installation of sewers will allow development of the area by light industry.

—Awarded a $13,055 contract to Asphalt Sealcoating and Paving of Montclair for grading and paving sections of Seventh, Eighth and Ninth streets.

—Awarded a $7,452 contract to C. P. Construction Co. of Ontario for reconstruction of an irrigation line on Mountain Avenue between 13th and 16th streets.

—Awarded a $10,333 contract to E. C. Construction Co. of South El Monte to resurface and install gutters on Redding Way north of 11th Street.

Parkway maintenance

City establishes special district

By Lynne Locke

The Upland City Council Monday night established the city's first special district for parkway maintenance. The maintenance district for 20 acres at the southeast corner of 21st Street and San Antonio Avenue was approved by a 3-1 vote with Councilman Hal Bailin dissenting and Councilwoman Ina Petokas absent.

City crews will maintain the parkways and the cost, about $21 per homeowner, will be spread among homeowners in the tract. City Manager Lee Travers said special parkway districts are "particularly applicable" on Mountain Ave. and San Antonio avenues.

There is rarely much homeowner interest in maintaining parkways on the side or rear of properties, he noted.

"I can't see why one small section of the community should be taxed additionally. Maintenance is not just for the benefit of homeowners but for the entire community," commented Bailin.

Councilman George Gibson called the special district "a reasonable way to insure tracts are kept up" and a noted the cost to each homeowner will be only 40 cents per week. "When parkways aren't maintained, they are unsightly," he added.

The council took quick action on the matter after contractor George Butler told them, "I am virtually out of business until the issue is settled." Houses can not be sold until the maintenance district is established and the maintenance rate set.

Also Monday night the council confirmed an Architectural Commission ruling that a Fotomat Corp. kiosk would not fit harmoniously into the Upland Center, at the Southwest corner of Foothill Boulevard and Mountain Avenue.

The Architectural Commission's decision was a "purely prejudice personal opinion that denies our constitutional rights," said John Robert Davis, Fotomat Corp. western region real estate manager. He said the proposed building would blend with the center, and the location of the kiosk is "inconspicuous to the over-all center."

Bailin noted the Upland Center "presents a traffic problem in many ways" and said he would not favor Fotomat's appeal. He also said the center has several openings for new businesses in the existing buildings.

McCarthy suggested Fotomat officials consult with shopping center contractors at the planning stage so Fotomat's plans would be included in the centers' over-all development.

The council also voted Monday night to maintain the present employee holiday schedule rather than replacing four minor holidays with floating days to be taken at the convenience of employee and city.

Employees proposed replacing Columbus Day or state election day with a holiday the Friday after Thanksgiving and opposed floating holidays.

Joe Woodford, representing miscellaneous employees, said the city would benefit from trading one of the minor holidays with the Friday after Thanksgiving when little public business is conducted. He said employees opposed floating holidays which might be granted in the middle of the week rather than on a Monday or Friday.

The Friday after Thanksgiving would be "an expensive one to make a fixed holiday" because of the holiday rates for such services as refuse collection and stand-by street and sewer crews, commented Travers.

He said floating holidays would benefit the public because the city would remain open for business on four minor holidays when many people expect the city offices to be open.

Bailin said the holiday schedule should be discussed again next year and noted Lincoln's birthday, Admission Day, Columbus Day and state election day are not holidays for most businesses. "It's not a justifiable set of holidays any longer," he added.

In other action Tuesday the council:

—Denied a Firefighters' Association's request for an actuarial study on retirement benefits. The request said the association would pay the $90 study fee.

—Referred to the city staff a request for funding to establish a lost and found pet service coordinated by volunteers.

—Reappointed Frank Carpenter and Leo Leal to the Planning Commission.

Jaycee-Wives

The Ontario-Upland Jaycee-Wives Club has been reorganized.

The first meeting has been held and Kathy Wilhoit was elected president.

Serving with her will be: Michelle Hicks, vice president; Peggy Mettinger, secretary; and Dana Hermisson, treasurer.

The club is a non-profit organization and is seeking projects to help in the community. The Wives Club also will help their husbands in the work of the Jaycees.

Meetings are to be held the second and four Wednesday of each month at 8 p. m. in a member's home. Further information is available by calling Mrs. Wilhoit at 986-5088.

Ways to cut your air conditioning costs.

Keep temperature at 78°

During hot summer months, you can cut air conditioning costs substantially by cooling a room—or your whole house—no lower than 78°. It could cost about 30% less for air conditioning if you keep the temperature at 78° instead of 70°. If you use a room air conditioner, hang a thermometer on the wall. Check it to see that the room temperature drops no lower than 78°. Remember: air conditioning is not to make you cold—just comfortable.

Insulate your home.

If you do not have insulation in your attic—or if you have too little—you could be using up to twice the energy necessary for air conditioning your house. (More energy to heat it, too.) Insulation can be blown into most attics. It's an investment which merits your consideration. For information, see your local insulation contractor. And don't forget to weatherstrip doors and windows.

Consider an automatic timer.

Timer attachments are available that will turn off your room air conditioner when you go to work and turn it on before you come home.

Investigate an energy-saving unit.

If you're in the market for a room air conditioner, compare the Energy Efficiency Ratio (EER) numbers. The higher the number shown, the more cooling you get from the electricity you use.

Cool only rooms in use.

If you have a room unit, keep all doors closed to the room you're cooling. Of course, no matter what system you use, whenever you air condition keep the outside doors and windows closed throughout the house.

Keep the heat out.

When the children (or family pet) go out, don't forget to close the door.

Keep the windows closed, too. And draw your draperies and blinds. Outside awnings or other sun screens will also reduce your cooling needs.

Keep equipment clean.

Clean accessible parts, but be careful not to damage them. Check filters every month and clean or replace as needed.

The cost of electricity has been going up, primarily because of the soaring cost of the foreign oil we must buy to burn in generating plants. The increasing costs of oil and the additional amounts we have had to buy are responsible for the total increase in the Year of community service reviewed

Members of the Assistance League of Upland devoted a total of 2,496 service hours to community projects during the 1974-75 club year.

The year of service to the Girls' Club of Cucamonga and the San Antonio Community Hospital Dental Center the two main philanthropic projects of league, was capped off by the annual luncheon held recently at the League Center in Cucamonga.

Service hours for the year were reported by Mrs. J.T. Waller who said 968 hours were given to the dental center and 1,528 to the Girls' Club. Other service hours were: 2,245 on seven ways and means projects; and 2,844 on other services.

In her report on the Girls' Club, Mrs. Clarence Scholl, chairman, noted that the service hours given to Girls' Club this past year were the most number of hours donated in a single year in the 22 years of the club's existence.

"Throughout all of these years and the years before when it was not officially the Girls' Club, one thing has remained constant. It is the dedication of women who have a genuine concern for the needs of others, who share their love and loyalty with little girls. Girls' Club has become a place where the 'intangibles' like honesty, courtesy, unselfishness, thoughtfulness for others are really practiced. It has been your 'caring' that has made it work."

League members shared their talents with members of Girls' Club during the year by teaching various crafts and skills. Mrs. Scholl remarked that each league member has her own "special talent to share whether it be baking, sewing, pottery making or just a gift of gab, it is what makes Girls' Club work," she said.

Highlights of the Girls' Club year included the following: a summer program of crafts and fun activities, topped off by a picnic; making wall hangings, mobiles and polyhedrons and taking them to the Home of the Angels; Halloween parties; field trips; and working on projects four days a week at the clubhouse.

The girls also made Christmas gifts, baked for their own Christmas party, silk-screened their own Christmas cards, sang at area convalescent homes, baked bread during the winter, made crafts for Easter, prepared for the annual Mother's Day Tea and learned to make pottery and do finger-weaving.

The league spent $9,000 in philanthropic funds at the Girls' Club, according to the report by Mrs. Eugene DeYoung, treasurer. Operating expenses for the year amounted to $2,700 and other philanthropic projects received $6,000.

Of that $6,000 the San Antonio Community Hospital Dental Center received $3,000 for its operating cost according to Mrs. James F. Garliepp Jr., chairman.

"The work of the Dental Center has this year, as in the past, been accomplished through the volunteer efforts of members of the West End Dental Society and Assistance League of Upland, the providing of the physical facilities by San Antonio Community Hospital, and the cooperation of the school districts served," she said. Funds for the program come from the league, the West End United Way, local PTAs and patient fees of $1 per visit.

"This year, one complete new operatory plus an additional chair were installed at the center," Mrs. Garliepp said. "This was made possible by gifts from the league and other service organizations in the area. It is the dental board's hope to have another new unit to begin operations in our new facilities in October."

A report on the other philanthropic projects of league was given by Mrs. Hensley, special projects chairman. She said $1,000 was donated to the YMCA-Cucamonga Boys' Club for the after school, on campus, sports program in the Cucamonga area. In addition, scholarships from the Ruth S. Hinman Memorial Fund are being given to two graduates from Los Amigos Junior High School in Cucamonga. The scholarships of $125 each will be deposited in the appropriate high school book store for the recipients, who also will receive trophies.

A project planned by Mrs. Taves for next fall will be the release of the Assistance League of Upland Cookbook, which will include 680 recipes.

The 17 members of the Assistents Auxiliary, the teen-age auxiliary of league, gave 698 service hours during the past year, according to Mrs. Alfred Dakin, coordinator.

The girls gave a $100 gift to the San Antonio Community Hospital Dental Center equipment fund and to Josie Montoya, a former Girls' Club member and assistant there this year, they gave a $100 scholarship to La Verne College, La Verne.

As philanthropic projects, the Assistents held a boutique sale with the proceeds going to the Girls' Club Christmas party, spent hours wrapping gifts for Girls' Club and for Casa Colina Hospital of Rehabilitative Medicine in Pomona, were Santa's helpers at Casa Colina, helped at the Santa Claus, Inc., open house tea.

The major project of the other league auxiliary, Las Tias, is a tutoring fund at Alta Loma High School.

Ever feel like you're paying for more service than you need?

Sometimes you pay for more service than you bargain for. It's like that with bank package plans. They cost you $2 or $3 a month (depending on where you bank) rain or shine.

At Foothill, personal checking is free. There's no monthly service charge when you carry a $100 balance. Even if you go below the minimum, your service charge is never more than $1.00, regardless of how many checks you write. You can buy a lot of travelers cheques and other extras with what you save.

It's easy hours at Foothill. You can bank from 8:30 A.M. to 6 P.M. weekdays and from 9 A.M. to noon Saturdays. You see, we're in when you're out... for your banking convenience. (Lobby hours are 10 A.M. to 3 P.M. Monday through Thursday, 10 A.M. to 6 P.M. Fridays).

It's easy to save at Foothill. We pay 5% per annum interest on regular savings. That's the highest the law allows. And for checking account customers we'll transfer to your savings account every month automatically any amount over $10 you say.

Watch your savings build without lifting a finger.

Senior citizens free checking. 65 or over? Free personal checking with no monthly service charge and free check imprinting regardless of the balance you keep. Ask for an Oak Tree Account.

The bank of choice for so many people. Come in and see why we've grown so rapidly in the two short years we've been in business. Assets now over $9,000,000.

Church News Three Methodist candidates ordained

Church news to be published in The San Dimas Press, The La Verne Leader, The Bulletin (Diamond Bar-Walnut-Rowland Heights), The Cucamonga Times, The Upland News or The Montclair Tribune should be sent to the Church Editor, Bonita Publishing Co., P.O. Box 593, Ontario 91764 at least one week in advance.

'Survival'

"Survival," a full length, adventure-packed Christian family film, will be shown in the drive-in area only 8:15 p.m. Sunday, at the Valley Community Drive-In Church, Lone Hill Avenue and Covina Boulevard, San Dimas. The first in the 1975 series of films to be shown in the Summer Sunday Evenings Under the Stars program at the local church, this exciting color motion picture takes place in high desert country when a plane makes an emergency landing forcing the occupants to fight for their very survival.

As an added attraction, the Chino Valley Trio, Jeanie Van Leeuwen, Theresa Nyenhuis and Margaret De Haan, with piano accompanist Marily Sybrandy, will offer selected musical numbers. The trio is from Chino Valley Reformed Church.

Entrance to the viewing area is from Lone Hill Avenue. Sound is transmitted directly to the car radios. However, there are a limited number of speakers installed for the convenience of those who do not have a radio or who prefer not to use it. The public is invited. Admission is free. An offering will be received.

Guest speaker Rev. Keith Eckerle from Kent, Washington will bring the morning message at both 8:30 and 11 worship services. Eckerle is the former associate minister of Pastor Melvin De Vries, who was called to the pastorate of the valley church from Kent last fall. Sunday School for all ages is held at 9:30 a.m.

Upland Nazarene

The Encounters, 10 singers from Nashville, Tenn., will appear in sacred concert at the First Church of the Nazarene, 120 W. Ninth St., Upland Friday, June 20.

The group has performed more than 90 concerts during the last nine months. Sacred Manuscripts Publishing Co. of Oklahoma City is sponsoring the group on its current nine-week summer tour throughout the United States.

Christian Chapel

The Christian Chapel, 1920 S. Brea Canyon Cutoff, Walnut, invites local residents to take part in a special Independence Day Celebration 10:30 a.m. July 4 at the church.

Everyone is asked to bring steaks or hamburgers for barbecuing and enough food for their family. There will be old-fashioned homemade ice cream, games for children, horses to ride and music, fun and family fellowship.

Fred Ladenius, a distinguished Catholic layman, will speak 9:15 and 11 a.m. Sunday, July 6 at the Christian Chapel.

Three candidates for the ministry recommended by Claremont United Methodist Church were ordained Tuesday in Redlands University Chapel—a prominent civic leader, a ventriloquist and a commercial airplane pilot.

"Many churches deplore the fact that they produce a candidate for the ministry only occasionally during their entire history," said a church spokesman. "This church is proud to be sponsoring three such candidates all in one year."

Mary Ellen Kilsby, 40, is the civic leader. She has served for several years as a member of the Claremont Board of Education. She has already been the director of Christian Education of the Claremont United Methodist Church and now serves as minister of education in the Claremont United Church of Christ.

She has an impressive record as student at Pomona College and is now working for a Doctor of Ministry degree at the Claremont School of Theology. She grew up in Klamath Falls, Ore., was graduated from Southern Oregon College and served in all aspects of the church's mission, including the preaching function. She now serves as chairperson of the California School Boards Association Committee in Board Development and Management. She continues her interest also in Girl Scouting.

Another candidate from the same church is 25-year-old Theresa Mason who is also a candidate for the Doctor of Ministry degree at the Claremont School of Theology. She grew up in Klamath Falls, Ore., was graduated from Southern Oregon College and served as a case worker at the David and Margaret Home. Miss Mason has been an accomplished ventriloquist for 14 years. She uses this gift to advantage in many public appearances. She has given programs throughout the Southwest on "Global Development," "Spiritual Enrichment," "Changing Concepts of Mission" and a wide spectrum of other topics.

LV Presbyterian

This Sunday at the 10 a.m. worship service 33 leaders and campers from the La Verne Heights Presbyterian Church will receive awards and give echoes of roughing it in the Kennedy Meadows area of the High Sierras. The Rev. Charles E. McAllister will preach a sermon based on the 10th Commandment and entitled "The Discipline of Desire." The church is located at 1040 Baseline Road, La Verne.

Clergy coffee

Area clergy are invited to attend a clergy coffee 2:30 p.m. Wednesday, June 25 at Foothill Presbyterian Hospital, Glendora. A well-known neurological surgeon, Donald D. Davis, M.D., Glendora, will discuss "The Role of Patient Awareness in Various Disease Entities." The subject matter will deal with methods of best ministering to patients who have suffered serious illnesses such as a stroke, severe trauma or cancer. Light refreshments will be served, and reservations are not required. The Coffee is under the direction of FPH Chaplain Donald K. Blackie.

Christ Lutheran

The 8:15 and 10:45 a.m. services Sunday at Christ Lutheran Church, 5500 Francis Ave., Chino, are to be conducted by The Rev. Harold Lorimer who has spent 10 years in church-extended ministry. Services will be followed by a coffee fellowship. Sunday Parish School will meet on its summer schedule of classes at 9:30 a.m. The guest minister served as administrator-chaplain of Sherman Indian High School, Riverside. While there he helped establish the Good Samaritan Boys' Home in Corona. Rev. Lorimer has given spiritual comfort to some 4,000 boys and girls in the past five years. He is filling the pulpit because the church's minister and some members of Christ Lutheran are touring the Bible lands.

'The Gospel Road'

The color film "The Gospel Road," starring Johnny Cash and produced by Worldwide Pictures will be shown at the People's Church of God, 1355 W. Sixth St., Ontario, 7:30 p.m. Saturday. The public is invited. The film is a story of Christ's earthly ministries. Johnny Cash seems to make it all happen again with music, with the scenic beauty of the land of Israel and with forceful characterization of the man who lived the story.

Stella Mann

Stella Terrill Mann, author, counselor and communicator of national renown, will present her lecture, "Can We Learn To Do The Things Jesus Did," 7:30 p.m. Sunday at the First Church of Religious Science, 509 College Ave., Claremont. Mrs. Mann's lecture is based upon her experience in bringing out the solving of real-life personal problems brought to her by thousands of her clients. Mrs. Mann is the author of eight published books and hundreds of additional published articles in the field of personal counseling and guidance. From these, she has chosen for her lecture situations dealing with the prevention of loneliness, poverty, physical illness, stress, guilt feelings, life problems from youth to old age, grief, and many other areas common to many people.

Evangelism program planned in Walnut

The Rev. Maxie Dunnham will participate in an evangelism program at the Walnut United Methodist Church, 20601 La Puente Road, Walnut 7 p.m. tonight and Friday. Rev. Dunnham has served in churches in Mississippi, Georgia and California and has become widely known as an evangelism leader and a pioneer in small group ministries. Presently, he is Director of Prayer Life and Fellowship on the Upper Room Section of the Methodist Board of Discipleship. In this position, his job is to inspire, motivate and develop resources for a renewed commitment to prayer and the inner life. Rev. Dunnham has traveled widely in Christian missions in this country and abroad. He has interviewed many of the outstanding preachers of today. He will share his insights into prayer and devotional life Thursday and Friday from 7-7:50 p.m. An informal worship service will be held 8-9 p.m. with Gospel singing and Rev. Dunnham's dynamic message closing the evening.

Christian concert set at Upland church

Veteran conductor Ken Waggoner will direct the Continental Orchestra in a concert of contemporary Christian music 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, June 24 at the Upland Brethren In Christ Church, corner of San Antonio Avenue and Arrow Highway. Waggoner joined the Continental Singers organization in 1963 as an assistant to Continental Singers founder, Cam Floria, and helped lead the group to their first national choral competition victory. He has directed Continental Singers summer tours since 1968, traveling coast-to-coast five times in addition to Europe, Canada and the Bahamas. In 1974 he directed the group that appeared at the World's Fair in Spokane, Wash., as well as making appearances throughout Hawaii, Australia and New Zealand.

Under Waggoner's direction, the Continental Orchestra will present an exciting selection of hymn and anthem arrangements, spirituals and praise songs. During their 65-day tour, the orchestra will perform daily, traveling from coast to coast across the United States. In addition, they will be spending a week in Bermuda and will be performing at the Christian Artists' Music Seminar and Camp in Estes Park, Colo.

The Migraine Sufferer Need Not Be So Lonesome

By Dr. W. P. Helzer, D.C.

The migraine headache is as devastating and serious a problem as I have come to know in my practice. It may be one of the serious defects of our modern day approach to life. It may be due to the increase of so many who self-treat occasional headaches with pain killers, never seeking to discover the source of their problem. No, I don't say every "pesky little headache" will be come a migraine. But you'll never be able to show me a migraine sufferer who didn't first experience an occasional "pesky little headache". Headaches, especially migraine, need prompt, effective treatment.

Dr. Wes Helzer, D.C.

Following is an excerpt from Pageant magazine concerning migraine problem. "It begins with my eyes - flashes of light, double - or half vision, blobs of color, then about 20 minutes later, the pain starts. Incredibly sharp and deep, over one eye usually and back along my skull. I can't stand light or noise; sometimes I have attacks of nausea or vomiting, sometimes a strange tingling in my fingers and toes or even my tongue. But the worst of it is when I try to speak. I know what I want to say, but the words won't come out properly. It's very frightening. The attacks usually last for three or four hours and afterward I can't do anything for the rest of the day. I've been getting them about twice a month lately."

"The speaker was an attractive 30-year-old woman who had lost her job as a secretary because of crippling attacks of migraine. She is just one of the millions of people in the world - roughly three out of every 50 - who suffer from this misunderstood disease. For migraine is definitely a disease and not just the 'bad headache' that non-victims and even many doctors seem to think it is. Migraine can cause the symptoms of heart disease, gall bladder inflammation, and appendicitis to appear. It is a disease that causes untold damage to the people who suffer from it - and to the employers who lose thousands of working hours because of it.

"Migraine produces such pain, in fact, that in a recent case of a brilliant 32 year old science teacher killed himself because he couldn't take the severe migraine attacks that were becoming more and more frequent. Experts agree that many cases of unexplained suicide could be caused by the agony of migraine.

"... There are many side effects of migraine that many people are unaware of. Children, for instance, often suffer from severe migraine attacks that cause abdominal pains not unlike a ruptured appendix. Many children have been operated upon needlessly for this reason, and thousands of school days are wasted each year because of migraine.

"... often victims have to put up with months of ineffectual treatment by local doctors of general hospitals. Many sufferers would rather stay at home in agony than be told by a harassed intern to 'go home and take two aspirin' - a treatment that works for a few minutes if it works at all. A lot of migraine victims are afraid to seek medical aid... because they have been embarrassed in the past by doctors who accused them of malingering."

I have the greatest sympathy for the migraine sufferers. They have had to endure - largely on their own - the private punishment of migraine. Yet migraine can be treated. It must be!

Fireworks!

$7,000 display at OMS

An estimated $7,000 in fireworks will highlight the Ontario Parkway Kiwanis' annual Fourth of July fireworks show at Ontario Motor Speedway to begin at 7:30 p.m.

According to Ken Lemmon of Kiwanis, proceeds from the event will be used to donate a piece of paramedic equipment, Lifepak 4, to the Ontario Fire Department.

Lemmon pointed out the department presently has a truck designed for paramedic use and has volunteers for paramedic training but other basic equipment for a paramedic program is still lacking.

The Lifepak 4, he said, is an expensive piece of equipment which could be the "key" to much of a paramedic unit's operations, he said. Among the unit's equipment are an electrocardiogram, defibrillator, telemetry and radio.

This year the Kiwanis are stressing advance ticket sales, he said. Tickets are available at all Gemmel Drug Stores, at the Squires Restaurant, 805 N. Euclid Ave., Ontario; Kengraphics, 128 E. Holt Blvd., Ontario; Merchants Bookkeeping, 124 E. F St., Ontario; Arrow Meats, 1655 W. Arrow Highway, Upland; most Ontario realtors and most independent drug stores, according to Lemmon.

Deep-pit barbecue

The Historical Society of Pomona Valley, Inc. will hold its eighth annual deep-pit barbecue on Sunday, June 22, on the grounds of the partially restored 1875 Louis Phillips Mansion, 2640 Pomona Blvd.

Barbecued beef dinners will be served from noon to 5 p.m. and entertainment is scheduled from 12:30 to 3:45 p.m.

Master of ceremonies for the event, held under the auspices of the Pomona Centennial-Bicentennial Committee, will be Dr. Oscar Edinger Jr., retired president of Mt. San Antonio College in Walnut.

Entertaining will be the Pomona Concert Band directed by G. Stanton Selby, the Ballet Folklorico Atzlan, and the "Girls Unlimited" singing group. Indian dances will be performed by members of Navajo Lodge 98, Order of the Arrow, Old Baldy Council, Boy Scouts of America.

Alumni of Pomona High School, class of 1925, will be honored as special guests.

For tickets, the society is asking a donation of $3.50 each and $1.75 each for children 10 and under. Tickets may be obtained at the barbecue or ordered in advance from the society, Post Office Box 2473, Pomona 91766.

Chicken eases budget

It isn't always easy to provide nutritionally balanced meals without unbalancing the food budget. That's why more and more homemakers, concerned with maintaining the good health of their families, include chicken frequently in their meal planning.

Few meats equal the food value of chicken. Chicken contains the same high-quality, complete protein found in red meats. It also contributes iron, thiamin, riboflavin, niacin, calcium and phosphorus to the diet. Chicken liver is especially rich in iron and vitamin A, providing 109.7 per cent of the recommended daily allowance of the latter. Equally important is what chicken does not add to the diet. Chicken is low in fat content; the fat it does contain is two-thirds unsaturated. It contains no carbohydrate. Another nutritional plus for chicken is its low calorie content. Chicken has fewer calories than most meats. According to the National Broiler Council, a 3½ ounce serving of broiled chicken (without skin and bone) contains approximately 136 calories. However, it is chicken's protein value that has made it a mainstay of American meals. A 3½ ounce serving of chicken (without skin and bone) contains 31.2 grams of protein, or 52 per cent of the average daily adult requirements. The light, delicate taste of chicken appeals to every age. And chicken is so versatile, it can be served often. A slight change in seasoning results in a completely new taste, allowing the imaginative cook almost limitless possibilities for preparing this nutrition-packed food. No wonder food experts call chicken the best buy in the meat market today. Here are two ways to include nutritious chicken in your menu - planning: Robust Country Chicken

1 broiler-fryer chicken, cut in serving parts
¼ cup flour
1½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
¼ cup oil
½ cup chicken bouillon
2 tablespoon chopped parsley (optional)
1 12-ounce can yellow corn, drained
1 16-ounce can butter beans
1 tablespoon chopped pimiento
2 8-ounce cans tomato sauce with mushrooms
1 teaspoon seasoning salt

Lightly coat chicken with combination of flour, salt and pepper. Lightly brown chicken on all sides in oil in skillet. Pour off excess fat. Add bouillon, cover and simmer 40 minutes. Add parsley, corn, butter beans, pimiento, tomato sauce and seasoning salt. Simmer 10 minutes or until chicken is tender. Makes 4 servings. Tasty Oven Barbecued Chicken

1 broiler-fryer chicken, cut in serving parts
1 tablespoon butter
1/3 cup celery, diced
1/3 cup onion, chopped
¾ cup apple juice
¾ cup catsup
¼ teaspoon monosodium glutamate

1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
4 teaspoons prepared mustard
¼ cup apple, peeled and minced
¼ teaspoon pepper
¼ teaspoon salt
Place chicken parts in shallow baking dish. In saucepan, saute celery and onion in butter until celery and onion are tender. Add apple juice, catsup and monosodium glutamate, Worcestershire sauce, mustard and apple to the celery and onion. Bring sauce to a boil, add pepper and salt. Continue to cook sauce over medium heat for 15 minutes. Pour sauce over chicken parts. Bake, covered at 350 degrees F. for 1 hour. Makes 4 servings.

Bagels great for commuters

A bagel is a doughnut shaped roll. Years ago it was a favorite breakfast of Jewish families on Sabbath day.

The bagel design is perfect for the on-the-run breakfast. The hole in the center allows it to stack neatly on wood pegs. It doesn't break or crumble easily and it's not sticky or greasy — won't smudge the morning paper. This is a sturdy, chewy bread containing 165 calories, about the same as two slices of bread. A cup of coffee to wash it down is the proper accompaniment.

They now appear in most large cities in frozen food sections at supermarkets as well as in bakeries and delicatessens. Jewish families like them split and spread with cream cheese and lox (smoked salmon) and they are often served in this way at snack counters. When split they can be toasted in a toaster oven or toaster and are delicious topped with margarine, cream cheese and jelly.

Bagels are made from a simple yeast-raised dough and the test kitchens make them by the rapid method. Instead of dissolving the yeast in warm water, it is added undissolved, mixed with the dry ingredients. Very warm tap water (120 F. to 130 F.) is the recommended temperature. They are called Water Bagels because the first cooking step calls for simmering the shaped dough in water for 3 minutes — before baking. Use a large shallow saucepan or electric skillet, simmering a few at a time. Lift carefully from the hot water and place on a towel to drain and cool for about 5 minutes.

Baking time is 30 minutes at 375 F. But after the first ten minutes they are removed from the oven and brushed with an egg white glaze. This gives the characteristic varnished appearance. After 20 more minutes of baking the bagels emerge crusty and golden brown on the outside, snow-white and tender within.

WATER BAGELS
Makes 1 dozen 4 to 5 cups unsifted flour
3 tablespoons sugar
1 tablespoon salt
1 package active dry yeast
1 1/2 cups very hot tap water
1 egg white, beaten
1 tablespoon cold water
In a large bowl thoroughly mix 1 1/2 cups flour, sugar, salt and undissolved active dry yeast.

Gradually add very hot tap water to dry ingredients and beat 2 minutes at medium speed of electric mixer, scraping bowl occasionally. Add 1/2 cup flour, or enough flour to make a thick batter. Beat at high speed 2 minutes, scraping bowl occasionally. Stir in enough additional flour to make a soft dough. Turn out onto lightly floured board; knead until smooth and elastic, about 8 to 10 minutes. Place in ungreased bowl. Cover; let rise in warm place, free from draft, for 20 minutes. (Dough will not be doubled in bulk.)

Punch dough down. Turn out onto lightly floured board. Roll dough into a rectangle 12x10 inches. Cut dough in 12 equal strips, 1x10 inches each. Pinch ends of strips together to form circle. Place on ungreased baking sheets. Cover; let rise in warm place, free from draft for 20 minutes. (Dough will not be doubled in bulk.)

Boil a 1 1/4-inch depth of water in a large shallow pan. Lower heat and add a few bagels at a time.

Simmer 3 minutes. Remove from water and place on towel to cool. Cool 5 minutes. Place on ungreased baking sheets. Bake in a moderate oven (375 F.) for 10 minutes. Remove from oven. Brush with combined beaten egg white and cold water. Return to oven; bake about 20 minutes longer, or until done. Remove from baking sheets and cool on wire racks. If desired, split and serve toasted with margarine or cream cheese.

Water Bagels, a Jewish bread appropriately designed for breakfast-on-the-run. Split and topped with cream cheese and jam or jelly, they provide a nutritious and stick-to-the-ribs snack. Toasted, Bagels are delicious.

Nutritional value

Don't skip a good breakfast

Do you remember breakfast? That was the meal that most American families used to eat after waking in the morning.

Today, it's fast becoming the forgotten meal. The U. S. Department of Agriculture reports the most common breakfast among American adults is simply toast and coffee.

Teenage girls and women, who have the greatest nutritional needs, often have the poorest breakfast habits of any members of the family.

Some of the reasons given for skipping breakfast are "not hungry," "watching weight," "no time" and "food in the morning makes me sick."

The California Dietetic Assn. has developed suggestions to help encourage breakfast.

— Start with only a single food, such as a piece of fruit or a cup of cocoa, and add other foods gradually, within two or three weeks.

— Point out that a person is less hungry at lunch if an adequate breakfast has been eaten. Studies have shown that weight reduction is much easier to manage when a morning meal is included.

— Keep easy-to-fix foods on hand, such as ready-to-eat cereal and milk.

— Don't limit selection to traditional breakfast foods. Soup, a grilled-cheese sandwich or leftover stew make nutritional breakfasts.

— Urge breakfast skippers to practice a trial run. For instance, eat breakfast for a period of two to three weeks and do an honest appraisal to see whether you feel better in the morning and accomplish more at school or work.

— Finally, the dietitians suggest that family members should be encouraged to choose foods, for all meals during the day, from the four basic food groups (milk, meat, vegetables and fruits, breads and cereals.)

Your flexibility cuts food cost

Remember supermarket spending sprees? Well, in these days selectivity is the name of the game — and that's good. Because to balance the budget and still vary their diets, we must be more aware of just what foods our families are eating.

Flexibility can help you stretch food dollars. You should plan menus ahead and stick to a supermarket shopping list. But when you spot an unexpected bargain, clude it.

And make menus flexible enough to take advantage of seasonal price changes — especially in fruits and vegetables. When spinach is high, for instance, try kale or collards. When salad greens go up, consider cole slaw.

Consider alternate sources of needed nutrients. Cut protein costs by serving fish, cheese and oatmeal as well as meat.

Use mesh bag

Do not use unventilated plastic bags for room temperature storage of onions, potatoes and other produce. The bags trap moisture that lead to spoilage. A mesh bag is suitable, or the vegetables can be stored in a bin in a cool, dry place.

Vitamin A sources detailed

Carotene, a substance converted to Vitamin A by the body, is found in large amounts in dark green leafy vegetables, such as spinach, broccoli, and kale, and in dark yellow vegetables like carrots, yellow squash, and sweet potatoes. Tomatoes are an important source also.

When we think of Vitamin C, we usually think of citrus fruits. But tomatoes, cabbage, dark green vegetables, sweet potatoes and potatoes, especially when cooked in their jackets, provide important amounts of Vitamin C too.

Bicycle mishaps peak in summer

The season for bicycle accidents is under way, Capt. W. C. Jones of the California Highway Patrol office, Pomona, warns.

In the West End, school is out and the number of bicycle-related accidents will peak during the next three months, when schoolchildren enjoy their vacations — on bicycles.

This period accounts for about half the fatalities and injuries each year that are bicycle related, Jones said.

Jones suggests two remedies — extra vigilance by bicyclists and motorists and action by parents to make sure their bicycle-riding children understand and follow the rules of the road.

Last year's statewide statistics indicate the scope of the problem, Jones said. In California, 105 bicyclists were killed and 10,864 were injured. The problem has grown this year, Jones added. So far in California, 28 bicyclists have been killed and injuries are on the increase.

The most common violations committed by the bicyclists are riding on the wrong side of the road.

Older teen-agers and adults are either warned or may receive traffic citations, while parents of younger children are sent letters advising them of the incident and requesting that the youngster be given adequate training in traffic safety, Jones noted.

Famed circus due

The all-new Bicentennial Edition of Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus will play a 16 day engagement at The Forum in Inglewood beginning Tuesday, July 15 through Wednesday, July 30. Performances are set for 2:30 and 8 p.m. Tuesdays through Fridays; 10:30 a.m., 2:30 and 8 p.m. Saturdays; and 1:30 and 6 p.m. Sundays.

Five elaborate new production spectacles, representing an investment of over $1 million in costumes and special effects, will be unveiled in the magnificent new production. The feature spectacle is the rousing "Circus Spirit of '76," a patriotic and spine-tingling extravaganza in tribute to our nation's 200th birthday.

Plant green lesson for children

Plants are for everyone, children included. Good lessons are learned from the experience of working with simple-to-grow plants started from kitchen seeds.

Start with two of the easiest, the avocado and sweet potato. Both are "planted" in the same fashion. Suspend them on three equally distanced toothpicks in a jar of water with about one-third of the potato or avocado in the water. Now for some patience. An avocado will take longer to sprout than the potato, about two months.

When you have enough roots, a stem and leaves on the avocado, plant it in normal houseplant soil and watch it grow — quite tall if you don't cut it back.

The sweet potato should stay in water and the luxurious shoots can be trained,

Zinnias are delightful summer-flowering annuals to brighten up the garden scene. The low-growing plants are profuse blooming choices for walkway borders or foreground plantings. They serve as cheery accents throughout the sunny parts of the garden.

It's month for roses

June is National Rose Month. And besides the beauty, color and aroma of the rose, it is one of the best flower bargains you can grow. It will produce hundreds of blooms over the years with little or no effort on your part, says "Yard N Garden" columnist Bill Meachem.

"No matter where in the country you live you can grow roses," he notes. "This covers the coldest to the warmest, because roses are sturdy souls."

Start campaigning

Mosquito time

Your campaign against mosquitoes quite naturally begins in and around your home. Here are some suggestions from entomologists at the Wax Biology Center, Racine, Wis.:

Mosquitoes already in your home can be killed quickly by spraying with an aerosol pyrethrum - base insecticide. Just spray infested rooms, following the directions on the can. The spray kills the mosquitoes (also any other flying bugs) on contact in the air.

You can take longer - range precautions outdoors. Tight fitting window and door screens will help keep the mosquitoes outside. And you can make it hard for them to reproduce by cleaning up sources of standing water, for example, empty cans, old tires, clogged drains and gutters, rain puddles. Mowing the lawn frequently disturbs one of their favorite hiding places.

The chances are, however, that while you can reduce your backyard mosquito population, you won't get all of them. They are great travelers.

"It's best to pay a little extra and get a better grade of plant," Meachem, a gardening consultant, advises. The next important factor is how you plant it.

"Whenever I have been rushed and didn't fuss over planting a rose, it didn't grow as well as I would have liked."

Meachem offered these suggestions: Make the hole large enough, use peat moss along the bottom of the hole, keep the plants watered and use a mulch over the soil.

"Roses will get insects and diseases at times," Meachem said. "I can't deny this. Some sort of control is necessary. Those individual stems and branches that might become infected can be easily cleaned up by using an aerosol, which also contains a fungicide to help curb diseases."
